MEDIA BEAN COMPANY PROVIDES EXCEPTIONAL COFFEE AND FOOD BY EXCEPTIONAL PEOPLE COMING TO MEDIA AREA

The Media Bean Company will not be your average coffee shop. Media Bean Company is a collaboration of DiFabio's 9th Street Catering founder Frank Agovino and Jim Wurster Co-founder of New Avenue Foundation, a 501c3 nonprofit public charity whose mission is to help create more meaningful lives for people with disabilities. One key part of their mission is to help find gainful employment and provide training for adults with disabilities.

"When Jim approached us about the idea I felt in my heart right away that it was something I was going to be involved with," Agovino said. What is the idea exactly?

The Media Bean Company will be housed at 1032 N. Providence Road in Upper Providence Township in the former home of Brazuca the recently closed Brazilian restaurant and the original DiFabio's before their move to larger and sleeker digs at the old Rose Tree restaurant.

The concept is straightforward. The Media Bean Company will offer on premise fresh roasted, fair trade coffee from South America and Africa which will create an amazing coffee product. The coffee beans, however, will be roasted by adults with disabilities. Our Community Cup Coffee, as it is called, will not only be available by the cup in the new location but will be packaged for retail sale in the shop as well as farmers markets throughout the region. A portion of all proceeds of coffee sales at Media

Bean Company will go back to New Avenue Foundation.

"Our adults will be trained how to roast and package the coffee and (they) will always be supervised," said Mr. Wurster. "Disabled people are truly a gift and take pride in what they do. This will be an awesome product because the employees will care 100%," he concluded.

In addition to a full line of fresh roasted coffee products Media Bean Company will offer fresh sandwiches, salads, healthier smoothies and baked goods made on premise in an express environment. The newly renovated shop will offer a comfortable setting to enjoy your beverage and meal as well as access free Wi-Fi.

For further information contact Christina Jester at DiFabio's Market & Tap 484-444-0850 or Jim Wurster at 610-246-8939.

A Mid April 2017 opening is expected.
